Beth Berke
Chief Operating Officer
Nelson Hardiman

Beth Berke is the Chief Operating Officer of Nelson Hardiman, the second largest group of healthcare attorneys in California.

Beth is the former Chief Administrative Officer (CAO) of Sony Pictures Entertainment and an independent Management Consultant. As Sony Pictures' CAO, she oversaw, among other areas, all legal matters and change management projects worldwide for the studio and created the Digital Policy Group to address the issues raised in the migration of the entertainment industry from analog to digital platforms. Prior to her promotion to CAO, she was Head of Global Human Resources for Sony Pictures, where she was responsible for HR policies and processes for 7000 employees worldwide.

Beth has a Juris Doctorate degree from UCLA School of Law, a Masters degree in Social Psychology from Stanford University, and a Bachelors of Arts in Psychology, Summa Cum Laude and Phi Beta Kappa, from UCLA. In addition to Management Consulting, she has taught law classes in drafting and negotiating employment contracts at USC's Gould School of Law, and recently taught a class at the College of Business Administration at Loyola Marymount University on issues facing women in the workplace.
